

“Who Are the Scots, Actually?”

A Presentation by Dr. Bruce Durie

A professional genealogist and specialist in DNA research, Dr. Durie will examine the topic of DNA research which establishes both Highland and Lowland Scots in the greater scheme of the populations of the British Isles and Western Europe.

Dr Bruce Durie lives and works in Scotland. He lived here in Laurinburg and worked out of St. Andrews while conducting a Fullbright Fellowship in 2018.

He has an international reputation and decades of experience in helping individuals with their own genealogies, family stories, Coats of Arms, old documents, DNA and more.

He has published hundreds of books and articles, made a large number of TV and radio broadcasts, given talks, lectures and webinars worldwide and led high-level education in these subjects.
